

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. I value my time at home with my family without the interruptions of phone solicitations. I received on the average of 15 calls a week of that nature prior to the In. Telephone Privacy law and now receive a maximum of 2 per week.